

Science Communication Modules *

Name, First name:

Conference

Title:

Date:

Location:

Report/Additional Value

What was the conference about? What did I learn? What was the additional value for me (e.g. networking, scientific exchange, new ideas, contacts to other groups working on similar problems)?

Own contribution

Title:

Authors:

Date:

Type:

Abstract

*Science communication modules are Cluster conferences and networking events as well as scientific conferences in your respective discipline where you present a poster or give a presentation. These modules improve science communication skills; increase networking between both locations and across Thrusts and draw attention to your own research & increase visibility within community.